

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ DRAFT - 18 January 1954

EO 435

[REDACTED]
Director, National Security Agency
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear [REDACTED]

25X1A6a

In connection with arrangements existing between the National Security Agency and the Central Intelligence Agency whereby selected employees are assigned to [REDACTED] for tours, I wish to inquire whether or not it would be feasible to make available to the Agency existing opportunities for language training. (I

~~realize that our participation may need to be limited to availability of "slots"~~

~~in classes and of instructors. Any cooperation that you can give us will be helpful and appreciated.~~ I have in mind language programs both at [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] If you believe that your Agency can assist CIA along these lines, I suggest that general arrangements might be developed by the CIA Director of Training, Mr. Matthew Baird, and the NSA Director of Training.

Except for Russian, the number of persons that we might desire to enter into any particular class would not be great. We do, however, have an immediate desire to train about sixty persons, in groups of about twenty, in Russian. It is our belief that the NSA course suits the needs of these particular analysts, some of whom are to be assigned to NSA, better than any other courses available in the

Washington area. ^{have been held} Exploratory conversations between Agency officers and [REDACTED]

of your staff and Chief, NSA-725
~~indicates that arrangements might be worked out provided you approve. It have led to agreement that NSA could provide the type of training we desire for~~

~~plan in principle this group, and that this training can be conducted either at NSA if additional classroom space is available or on CIA premises. (In the event NSA prefers to conduct the classes at CIA, we will make all arrangements for transportation of the instructor.)~~
